PRICE TWO CENTS

HOLD FIRST DANCE AT DAWSON TONITE RVC GIRLS ATTEND

Music Provided By Dawsonaires Feature Vocalists

St. Johns, Nov. 29.—(Special to The Daily)—Dawson College's Housewarming Dance scheduled tonight will be attended by 800 McGill students, it was announced by Jim Spencer, social convener of The Dawson Students' Council. He said a conservative estimate of the R.V.C. girls planning on attending has past the 200 mark. Arrangements for Dawson's first dance were reported completed today.

Transportation for the girls of McGill will be provided; buses will leave R.V.C. at 7 p.m., taking the girls directly out to St. Johns in time for the dance at 8.30 p.m. The buses will bring them home, leaving at midnight, following two routes through Montreal. The first route is along Sherbrooke St., passing R.V.C. to Guy, up to Cote des Neiges and over the mountain to Snowdon, down Girouard to Sherbrooke St., and downtown again. The second route is as follows:—Into Montreal, up to Sherbrooke St., up Bleury and Park Ave., to Van Horne, across Outremont to Snowdon, and then down Cote des Neiges to R.V.C.

The orchestra will be the Dawsonaires, under Maestro Bill Connelly. This group of twelve men has been rehearsing for the past month in anticipation of this affair. Two new vocalists are featured in the program—Gerry Isman and Bill Adamson.

The Social Committee has stressed that the grounds at Dawson College are to be considered out of bounds except special buildings to be used as lounges. Besides the main gym, there will be the C.W.D.'s Corner Lounge (Building 21), the Canteen (Building 35), the Faculty Club (Formerly, the Officers' mess), and the Women's residence.

Patrons for the Housewarming Dance are Vice-Principal Gilson, Assistant Vice-Principal Craig, Professor Marshall and their wives and Dr. Roscoe, Warden of R.V.C.

Elaborate decorations are being put up in the gym by Beverly Mace, and Ray Chanton's decoration committee, it is reported. McGill's Sir Arthur Currie Memorial Gymnasium is approximately the same size as the one at Dawson, which used to be the drill hall for the Air Force station.

According to the ticket sales committee at St. Johns, a record number of tickets was sold to students who are going stag or who have invited McGill co-eds. Students were reminded by Spencer that tickets will be sold at the entrance at the same price, 75c.

Students' opinion at Dawson College is in favour of holding dances here at the college, and the Social Committee intends to run similar affairs later on in the year under the direction of the Students' Council.

Dawson Veterans Hear Starkey

Outlining the organization of the Veterans' Society at McGill, Len Starkey, President, gave Dawson veterans an idea of how to organize their recently formed society, for which there will be a membership drive.

In the near future there will be a conference of veterans' societies from all over Canada in order to make representative briefs for presentation to the government.

After consulting with Principal James, it was understood that no veterans would be deprived of their college education due to lack of facilities at the University.

At the business meeting concluding this discussion the following were elected:

Education Committee: Engineering—L. Bartlett, Don Dods, Miss Boyce. Science—Lou Gotthel, Bob Fullerton, George Dunn.

Committee to investigate living conditions—J. Weiss, R. Gilmour, F. L. Swinton, Rod Smith.

Publicity—Jack Leslie, Bill Novick, Scoop Neale.

Manitoba Varsity To Use Army Huts

Winnipeg, Nov. 29.—(CUP)—The University of Manitoba plans to house the veterans who are entering courses beginning in January, in Army Huts.

The courses are being given at the Fort Garry site where required accommodations can be made available by the use of temporary buildings recently used as a training centre for the Army.

Preparations are being made for a registration of about 300 students and this will be increased if the instructional staff and equipment can be obtained.

The courses offered will be those of first and second year Arts and Science, with pre-med subjects, first year engineering and second year commerce.

Dawson Council Releases Results On Latest Plans

Ski Club Projected;
Telephones Promised,
Also Bowling Alleys

St. Johns, Nov. 29.—(Special to The Daily)—The Dawson College Students' Council today announced the results to date of several issues, including the organization of the "Snow-Daws" Ski Club, the installation of public telephones, the use of the bowling alleys, and a bulletin of the Governors' visit here last Saturday.

The Council Executive has received a report on the organization of the "Snow-Daws", a ski club recently started on the Dawson campus. John Turnerbone, Paul Schultz, W. A. Drysdale, are the president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer, respectively. The club's membership fee of one dollar has already been approved by the Council, and, at present, the ski group is looking for prospective sites for skiing.

President Clayton Thompson has explained the allocation of telephones to dormitories, which are without public telephones. Every dormitory building will be fitted with one in the centre hall, he said, adding that one phone was the limit for McGill house even though it is not a complete unit.

Bowling alleys are now under the supervision of Jacques C. Guillon, and their organization is expected immediately upon completion of renovations. Other developments in the recreational program, as reported by the Council's committee, are the offers extended by the Engineering girls to "brighten up" the students' lounge. The lounge at Building 23 will soon be provided with a radio and gramophone for Friday night parties, as well as a games room in the east wing.

At the last session of the Dawson Student's Council held last night a vote of thanks was passed expressing thanks to "those who acted as guides on the official opening day of Dawson College, Saturday, Nov. 24." The wives of students acting as hostesses at the tea party were included in this vote.

Music Room in Conservatorium Expected to Be Open Next Week

It is hoped that the 'Carnegie Room' of the McGill Conservatory of Music will be ready for use by the end of next week. The room was supposed to be open by the end of October, but the decorating was not completed in time.

The Room is reserved for the exclusive use of McGill students, who can come any time of the day between 10 and 6 to hear selections from the large record library located there. These sessions are divided into half hour periods, each period under the supervision of a student, who is responsible for the machine and furniture.

The Faculty of the Conservatorium are especially anxious to have the Room opened. In past years this facility has been greatly appreciated by the students, and the

IUDL Debaters Eliminations Held In Music Room

Shatner and Hemens
Travel to Bishops;
Ottawa Comes Here

Eliminations for the Inter University Debating League as well as those for the University of Vermont debate, were held yesterday afternoon at 5.15 p.m. in the Union Music Room. Of the 12 men who spoke, six were chosen to represent McGill in the forthcoming debating events: Ted Hugessen, Jim Patterson, Isadore Rosenfeld, Jim Hemens, Sherwin Raymond, and Conrad Shatner. The first three upheld the negative, while the last three maintained the affirmative.

"Resolved that every able-bodied Canadian youth should undergo one year's compulsory military service," was the topic of the five-minute speech which determined those speakers to debate for McGill in the Canadian Intercollegiate competition against Vermont. The judges at this event were Major Greenwood of the C.O.T.C., Professor Osborne of the Geology Department, and Mr. Dando of the English Department.

Ted Hugessen and Isadore Rosenfeld, president of the Debating Society, will debate the negative in the forthcoming meet on February 14 with Ottawa, when McGill plays host to the Ottawa University team. On the same day, Jim Hemens, last year's president of the Society, and a member of last year's team, and Conrad Shatner will uphold the affirmative at Bishop's. The topic for these debates will be the same as that used in the eliminations yesterday.

"Resolved that the trend towards the Left in world politics is inevitable," will be the subject which Sherwin Raymond, a last year's team member, and Jim Patterson will debate on next Thursday night, December 6, against the University of Vermont.

Approval of Campus Events Required by Dates Committee

The Dates Committee of the Students' Executive Council must henceforth receive a duplicate application from every campus organization, athletic and otherwise, for permission to hold all functions open to students, it was learned for the Committee yesterday. Printed application forms will be available next week in the office of the Secretary-Treasurer in the McGill Union.

These applications will be reviewed at least once a week by the Dates Committee, which consists of the President of the McGill Union, the President of the Women's Union, and the Chairman of the Athletics Council. The present incumbents of these positions are H. A. Richter, Merelle Cayford, and Peter Turcot, respectively.

The Dates Committee of the Council is based on Article VII, 5, of the Constitution of the Students' Society, which reads: "The members of the Council shall constitute a committee on Students' Social Functions. All undergraduate bodies desiring to hold any entertainment, or other social functions, in the Union or other University building, must make application to the Committee, which may reject the same or forward it with its recommendations to the Principal."

This committee is to work with a recently-formed four-member committee of the McGill University Senate, in deciding the number of extra-curricular functions on the campus, and conflicts arising out of concurrent events.

CAUCs, Reappearing as Civilians On Campus, Plan Reunion Soon

By G. S.

The committee which has been organizing the long-awaited reunion of the former members of the Canadian Army University Course stationed at Douglas Hall during the winter of 1943-44 announced their plans today. The initial gathering is to be a Banquet in the Grill Room of the Union to be held on Friday evening, December 14th, at 6.30 p.m.

During their eight-month stay at McGill the 250-odd soldier-students, under the command of Maj. J. C. Hope, received technical training in the Faculties of Engineering and Science. But the "Slide Rule" Army invaded many theatres of operations apart from the academic. CAUCs played on McGill's football and hockey teams; the monthly dances at the "Barracks" were events of no mean import to the

ISS Funds Collected By Queens University

Kingston, Nov. 28.—(CUP)—A campaign for funds for the International Student Service has begun at Queen's University and will last till December 4.

Donations are being sought from students and members of the staff. These will be forwarded to the headquarters of the ISS, at Geneva Switzerland. The funds collected will be distributed amongst the countries racked by war, which need food, clothing and other assistance for their students.

The chairman of the ISS, at Queens, commenting on the drive, declared, "The students of America, untouched by war, are trying to help the universities in Europe and Asia which suffered so greatly in the last six years." The objective for Canada is $50,000.

Electronics Lab Will Be Erected At McGill Soon

Dr. Keys Is Appointed
As Director of New
Eaton Research Unit

Dr. D. A. Keys will direct the Eaton Electronics Laboratory that will be built at McGill University. In an announcement yesterday it was revealed that an endowment of $128,755 has been created to be known as the Eaton Electronics Research Laboratory Fund and that this sum will be used to build one of the most modern laboratories in the world. Its purpose will be to foster research in a field of vital national and international importance.

A special laboratory is to be built as a division of the department of Physics. It will have the most modern research apparatus which will enable an increasing number of postgraduate students to conduct research in radio, radar, atomic power and a wide range of associated subjects all of vital importance, to Canadian industry and scientific progress.

The cyclotron whose construction is now under way will be greatly supplemented in usefulness by the electronics laboratory.

Prof. Keys who will be in charge of the laboratory is an authority on electronics. Throughout the war he directed special courses for the armed forces including one for the R.C.A.F. which provided personnel to service Great Britain's famous radar protective system.

The University, through the department of Physics this year established a closer link with the National Research Council of Canada, whose research workers are giving courses in electronics at McGill.

The new project will provide the facilities to carry on the program now well begun.

Exhibition of McGill Handicraft Will Open at Redpath Library

By BETTY BREWER

A great hum and bustle is going on in the gallery of Redpath Library, as Miss Alice Johannsen and her committee are preparing for the Arts and Crafts exhibition which will open Monday and will run until Dec. 14. Miss Johannsen is very enthusiastic about the response which has been made and remarked in an interview with The Daily that the exhibits show great latent ability among the students, staff and recent graduates of the University.

"Macdonald College has shown an excellent response," she continued, "due in part to the fact that they are well organized and have shop facilities. However, steps have been made towards having such facilities instituted at McGill. Classes in

Red Wing Society Lists Nominees

The following nominations have been received for the Red Wing Society elections, to be held December 7:

Third year—Resident: Joan Davis, Cay Draper, Mary Hummel, Helen Christie, Noreen Hanley, Shirley McGregor, Joan Burnet.

Third year—Non-resident: Mary LeMesurier, Harriet Anderson, Marion Riddell.

Second year—Resident: Janet Edwards, Larrier Hayes, Drusilla Riley, Thea Hertzberg, Marie Motola.

Second year—Non-resident: Peggy Ann McFarlane, Rosa Gualtieri.

First year—Resident: Keltie MacKinnon, Janette Riley, Louise Ferrier, Anne Merston, Pauline Campbell.

First year—Non-resident: Carol Horschburg, Diana Harrower. Students of Physiotherapy have elected Pamela Merston, while the School of Physical Education has chosen Anne Eleanor MacDonald.

Two Physicists Join Staff at Syracuse U.

Syracuse, N.Y., Nov. 28.—(Exchange)—Two physicists will join the faculty at Syracuse University on January 1. They are Dr. Arnold J. F. Siegert, theoretical physicist, and Dr. Woodrow E. Johnson, experimental physicist.

Dr. Siegert received his Ph.D. at the University of Leipzig under a Lorentz fellowship. He joined the faculty of Stanford University in 1936. After working on several projects he went to M.I.T. in 1942 to devote his time to the research of radar.

Dr. Johnson received a B.Sc. at Hamline University in Minnesota and a Ph.D. at Brown. A former member of the faculty of Syracuse, Dr. Johnson left to work on the U.S. Government's atomic energy project at Oak Ridge, California.

FRANKFURT—Six hundred workers of UNRRA most of them Europeans, have been dismissed for incompetence in a widespread purge of the organization members.

RVC Auditorium Scene of Concert Monday Evening

The second concert in a series of four student subscription concerts, will be presented by Isaac Stern, violinist, on Monday, December 3rd at 8.30 p.m. in the R.V.C. Auditorium. Next Monday's program is identical with that to be heard a week later at Carnegie Hall in New York.

Mr. Stern will be accompanied at the piano by Alexander Zaklin with whom he has been affiliated for many years. The pianist has been featured with Isaac Stern on their many U.S.O. tours.

A point worthy of note is that Hindemith's Sonata will be performed in Montreal for the first time.

Beethoven's Sonata in A major opus No. 1 will head the program. It will be played in three movements: Allegro, Adagio molto espressivo and Allegretto con variazioni. This will be followed by Wieniawski's Concerto in D minor in three movements—Allegro moderato, Romance, and Allegro moderato respectively.

After the intermission, Mr. Stern will play Bach's Grave and Fugue in A minor. Hindemith's Sonata (1939) will follow. Its movements are entitled Lehaft, Langsam-lehaft, and Fuge: Ruhig bewegt. Paganini's Caprices Nos. 20 and 5, Schumann-Helfetz' Prophetic Bird, and Saint-Saens' Introduction of Rondo Capriccioso will conclude the program.

The remaining two concerts in the series will be given by the McGill String Quartet and Ellen Ballon, pianist, and will take place on January 11 and February 22.

Forum Discusses Social Diseases

"Venereal Disease" will be discussed this evening at the opening meeting of the "Science Forum" to be held in the Montreal High School auditorium. Commencing at 8.15, the program will feature Dr. Frederick Kalz, lecturer in the Faculty of Medicine here at McGill, as guest speaker.

The Science Forum, sponsored by the Canadian Association of Scientific Workers with the object of bringing science to the layman, will present one programme a month throughout the remainder of the academic year. Topics to be discussed include "Science and the Race Problems," "Brain, Mind and Personality," as well as "The Canadian North." The latter will be dealt with by the world-renowned explorer, Wilhjalmer Stefansson on April 26.

Admission to the series will be free of charge. However, tickets entitling the holders to seats in the reserved section for the whole series of seven lectures are available for the sum of $2.00 from any member of the C.A.S.W. and may also be obtained at any of the meetings.

WORLD EVENTS

WINDSOR—There is still no prospect of settlement in the strikes of the Word workers. Tonight a back to work plan approved by union leaders was rejected by the workers. The decision was reached at a mass meeting.

CHUNGKING—Nationalist troops were reported halting 90 miles from Mukden yesterday after Russians assured them safe entry into the city in the first major step in the reconquest of Manchuria.

WASHINGTON—President Truman, in a press conference today, told reporters that he believed that the day for conferences such as the various Big Three meetings was at an end.

Religion?

(Ed. Note: This is the first in a series of contributed editorials which will be devoted to the discussion of religion. We invite student comment on this subject.)

It may be just a strange co-incidence, but a number of people we have chanced to meet around McGill lately have a peculiar aversion to talking about religion. Either they toss it off with some nonchalant remark and consider it a thing of the past, or else they shy away from speaking about something in which they firmly believe, yet not firmly enough to state their opinions in the face of mockery.

Whether people have any particular faith in a God or an eternal life or not, doesn't particularly concern us. What does concern us is the apparent indifference with which people look upon religion. To many it is tossed away along with superstition and prophecies and belief in astrology; while to others it is a matter of belonging to a church because one's parents do, and one always has, with no particular constructive or destructive criticism of one's own beliefs.

The reasons for this seem to lie chiefly in the fact that science has trained us to accept nothing that cannot be demonstrated in a material way, and religion certainly cannot be synthesized as a chemical compound, nor can it be analysed into elements. It apparently does not concur particularly satisfactorily with our laws of physics, nor does it follow any comprehensible formula. Furthermore, very few attempts have been made to rationalize religion into an easily understandable code such as we use for the comprehension of the acknowledged sciences.

However, on consideration, we have to admit that our scientific knowledge is limited, and to the extent that it is limited, many will concede the point that the existence of a God, and of a human soul, is possible. The pure scientist conditions this concession by the belief that, when and if man ever exhausts the field of knowledge to the point where he will be able to understand everything and to create life himself,
God will become non-existent, as will religion.

Most of the people whose thoughts lie along this line however, establish for themselves some sort of philosophy by which they conduct their lives. The general pattern usually falls along the lines of the rights of individuals to do as they please, provided they do not harm their fellow man. With this philosophy, a certain amount of rationalism and progress is maintained, and the people who follow it find some satisfaction in furthering the progress and happiness of the world for future generations.

When we examine this philosophy more closely we see that it borders on religious ideals, while denying the belief in an incomprehensible God and eternal life. In the first place, it takes into account the fact that human beings have rights as individuals, and this is true only if we acknowledge the fact that human beings are capable of feeling. While this appears so obvious as to be superfluous, many a scientist overlooks it in consideration of religion. Or perhaps he labels it "instinct," and attributes it to some convolution of the brain for which there has as yet been no purpose established.

Conceding the possibility of this, we continue in the investigation of his philosophy.
Next we point to his own consideration for other people. This, too, might be labeled instinct, inasmuch as animals frequently show the same consideration for fellow animals in distress, particularly if they have been domesticated.

But the desire of these people to further the progress and happiness of the world is another feeling which cannot come under the label of instinct. It is no less than a faith that men will appreciate finer things in life, and better living conditions. This consideration for future man is not shown in animals, nor in any other object in nature, animate or otherwise.

It is the explanation of this faith that leads us to believe that the people of this philosophy have a form of unacknowledged religion.

Dawson Jitters

by Lyon Nathanson

On visiting the Dawson pool hall, I find it utterly deserted... Dawsonites are preparing for their interim tests, or, probably, it is because a forty-cents per hour rental fee was just inaugurated. Anyway, Dawson students are feeling the effects of class exams.

St. Johns residents can now recognize us by our distinctive characteristics, which are pale cheeks, nervous movements; sometimes there is an individual clutching a text... I can assure you that this is only done as a last resort! Dawson wolf-calls are barked only once a block now, instead of every ten feet... hubba-hubba-hubba!

Conservative first-year students were practically knocked out of their straight-backed seats in an English II lecture the other day, when joyful students madly cheered the lecturer—it seems he postponed
some conferences for a few days.

This morning 60 corpses streamed past me
from a classroom on Dawson Hall's second floor...
no, it wasn't an exclusive showing of a Boris Karloff cinema; the results of an algebra test were given. One of the fellows in the class was so stunned that he tried to tell me that a problem
given to him to solve was, "Find out the quality of Dawson meals, if they vary proportionally as the number of waitresses and, inversely, as the number of napkins used." He proudly told me that was the only problem he could solve at all!

Veteran students here have heard so many rumours about involuntary "Christmas graduations"
for low-average students, that some isolated "vels"
just keep their trunks packed, in case.

Well, Dawsonites are getting excited about the prospects of seeing the fairer sex at the House warming Dance this Friday night. For the first time in the history of Dawson College, men and women will be nearly in the proper proportions.
R.V.C., are you ready?

The Dawson College unofficial yell has been accepted unanimously. The expressive yell starts off this way, "Dawson once, Dawson twice..." (the other lines, including the climax, are censored).

Suggestions have been passing around thick and fast about separate college colours for Dawson. A serious group of Dawsonites has been repeatedly asking for combination pyjamas and play suits in orange, with horizontal black stripes across them. These would be worn at all times.

The latest news originating from the McGill
House dormitories is the circulation of another petition. This time the boys are asking for a cham-bermaid service to be established. I'm not sure whether it stipulates that the girls should be models from the John Powers Agency, but the fellows are very hopeful... Excuse me for a second, while I sign my name to something.

The Dawson City Improvement League (or something), has been offering to do me a favour.
They offered to give me a news scoop, however,
I told them I wasn't interested. Maybe I made a mistake in not accepting their proposition; a fire in Dawson City would make headlines in The Daily. The "League" told me that there is only one drawback—Dawson has efficient fire-fighting apparatus, including some crash-trucks which were used on the airfield. Tough, isn't it?

Grey Canvas

Old Grey woman,
What do you see?
Why do you stand so staring at me?
Where have you come from and where do you go?
What are the words that you mutter so low?
What did you do when you were still young?
Do you remember the songs that were sung?
Why are your hands so gnarled and red?
Why do you make me think of the dead?
Old grey woman,
Listen to me,
I am young and I don't wish to see
The bitter tears and the shifting scenes,
The last good-byes and the broken dreams.
Why can't you tell me that you have felt too
The thrill of the moonlight when love was still new?
Why can't you tell me that life has been gay?
Why don't you tell me it's worthwhile today?
Old grey woman,
This much I see,
You are laughing, laughing at me.
—Nanette Gamble.

Time and Tide

Glamour

What is it about distance that lends such enchantment? Why is it always the things just out of reach, that seem so desirable? That this statement is true can hardly be doubted, for it is being used more and more in feeding the public with what is known as "publicity."

The glamour of a film, a play, a performer seems to be the unit of evaluation, or so the advertisers would have us believe. They use this basis because for them it is the easiest way out... it is the surest method, by now, of selling anything to the public.

By such constant feeding of glamour, big names, flashy lights, the average person who knows only a little about the fine arts, is confused. He knows only the meaning of the size of the name. His discrimination of what will be good rests mainly on what he is told. Hence when he goes to form his own opinion his ideas are already, although probably unintentionally, coloured.

A great many objects of value are too often passed by this desire for something more glamorous.
This has been the fate of local talent many times in more than one field. Good plays have been put on by Montreal groups which have been overlooked
for plays which have been brought in from outside,
of none too high calibre.

It is a condition which has existed for a long time. To a certain extent we are coming out of it a little. We may have another chance to find out soon if we are.

At the beginning of this week, a number of musicians were brought up from the States for a Jam Session. The general census of opinion is that it did not have the essence of real jazz. Nevertheless, people went and bobby-soxers went wild and jazz lovers were disappointed. Rumour has it there may shortly be local stirrings in this field. They seem to be pretty good, too.

Now let's wait and see.

LETTER FORUM

WITHDRAWALS

The Secretary,
Students' Executive Council,
McGill University.
Dear Sir:—I would like to thank those who have nominated me for the position of E.U.S. representative to the Student Executive Council. Unfortunately due to other commitments and pressure of my studies I feel that I cannot devote sufficient time to do justice to such a responsible position.
Yours truly,
J. C. STUBBS.

Mr. G. H. Fletcher,
Secretary-Treasurer,
Students' Executive Council,
McGill Union,
Montreal, Que.
Dear Sir:—I wish to withdraw my nomination as representative for the Faculty of Commerce to the Students' Executive Council.
Yours truly,
Signed J. D. POLAND.

EXPLANATION

The Editor, McGill Daily, Montreal.
Dear Sir:—I would like to reply to the plea of Ann n'sorry for some information on the weird game she saw in progress on the lower campus. It sounds, from the symptoms, as if it is the game of Association Football, commonly known as Soccer. This is the forerunner of the modern game of Football as played on Molson Stadium.

As regards the variety of dogs seen around the campus, I believe there is a common name for such animals, probably not used in the Zoology Department, but in quite common use elsewhere, it is Heinz Dog.

Any more information on these subjects will be very gladly given.

H. B. CARTER.

To the Editor, The McGill Daily;
Dear Sir:—Yesterday the Czechoslovak Minister came specially from Ottawa, and representatives came from all parts of Canada to attend and address the International Students' Day Rally in the Union Ballroom, commemorating the massacre of hundreds of students of the University of Prague in November, 1939.

At 8 o'clock, the time scheduled,
there were 12 people in the Ballroom. The Chairman had to entertain the Minister in the reading room for three quarters of an hour,

Buddah in Bronze

Man,
Balanced precariously
On the edge.

The morass,
Unfathomable depth,
Primordial ooze.
Blackness,
Despair,
Death.

Man,
The tight-rope walker.
Will he make it?
He sees the light shining ahead,
Flecks of sun-dust in his eyes.

He's blinded; he falls;
He spins slowly;
Primordial ooze
Blackness,
Despair,
Death.

Rhyme

What's a pome?
A pome's a song and a dance
And a call to roam,
Or a discourse on fate and chance.

I like a pome
That tells of people and things
And loves of the gods of old
Rome
And of beings, better than kings.

I hate a pome
About birds and flowers
And crimson sunsets and lovers'
bowers,
And mile-long stories and sighs
for home!

But all things considered,
I like a pome.

The I.C.U. and McGill U of M Relations

Many students may recall the past rivalry between the University of Montreal and McGill. In all political crises the two rallied on opposing sides, and at the time of the Abyssinia episode it seemed that relations between them were uncurably bad. At times one seemed to be a hotbed of fascism, and at times the other seemed to be a hot-bed of Anglo-Saxon imperialism.

In recent years a very noticeable and striking change appears to have taken place in McGill-U. of M. relations. Spontaneously in both student bodies a consciousness has arisen of the evil of such a situation, and an eager trend of both out of extremes and towards the establishment of a genuine understanding has taken place in a few years after a century of antipathy.

Out of this awakened spirit an organization has emerged—the Inter-University Club—to give leadership and guidance to this spirit itself. Its purpose is to build a permanent affection and comradeship between the English and French-speaking universities in Montreal.

The results of such a movement
if it really succeeds cannot fail to achieve great things; for here we see for the first time a real striving for Canadian unity. Artificial unity, brought about by expedience and lack of a better alternative, cannot possibly survive if the artificial conditions disappear. But the direct cementing of two cultures at their basis—the university—can never die.

The Inter-University Club will soon embark on a very active season. This season will be decisive; in it lies the success or failure in the following years. The I.U.C. is open to every student who holds Canadian unity close to his heart, and who would like to be a part of the great historical movement now appearing—the foundation of a great nation.

A rather pedantic student was asked to give his definition of a woman.

He cleared his throat and began,
slowly:

"A woman is, generally speaking..."

"Stop right there!" cut in the instructor. "You've said it."

Red Cagers Face S. L. U. At Canton, N.Y. Tomorrow

DAVIES HOOPSTERS AT FULL STRENGTH FOR EXHIBITION

NOTICES
TRACK PICTURES
The picture of the track team will be taken on Tuesday, December 4 at 5 p.m. at the Gym. All members of the team are urged to attend with full equipment.

SWIMMING PRACTICE
There will be a practice of the swimming team today at 5:30 p.m. at the K. of C. pool in preparation for the C.A.S.A. meet which takes place on Monday.

Squad's Progress Satisfies Mentor

Fresh from a 39-33 victory over the snappy St. George Williams cagers, the McGill senior hoopssters leave for Canton, N.Y., tomorrow where they face the St. Lawrence University quintet in an exhibition intercollegiate tilt.

Lou Davies' squad will meet at the gym at 1 p.m. tomorrow and will board two seven-passenger cars which will take them to Canton. At present plans are set for a one-night stay there and the team will return via the same method on Sunday.

TEAMS STRONGER
This will be the second successive year that the two squads meet. Last year the S.L.U. five journeyed to Montreal where they copped a last-minute 33-31 victory before 2,000 McGill students at Athletics Festival II. This year our friends from below the border will meet up with a far stronger and faster Red quintet, but according to advance reports the S.L.U. five will also be a stronger squad than last year.

Although highly pleased with the team's performance on Wednesday, Coach Davies is making one addition to the squad. Bob Beaupre of the intermediate hoopssters will make the trip. Beaupre has shown consistent good form for Ronnie Rutherford and Davies feels that "Boey" will add strength to his hoopssters.

GEORGIAN GAME
In the Georgian tilt the Redmen showed considerable polish as they outfoxed their opponents time and time again around the basket. Greenburg and Davidson set up the plays while Goodwin and Roth were "Johnnies on the spot" each potting ten points. Ken Hoyle again turned in a superb effort from the guard slot and impressed all and sundry with his accurate long shots.

VOLLEYBALL
Manager Ed. Rossy announces that a practice will be held today from 5:15 to 7:15 in preparation for the league opener. Entries are expected from 23 teams.

Guinness Ekes 3-2 Win In Ping Pong Tourney

"The McGill battle of the little celluloid ball" is entering its middle phase, and even those with that pale Ping Pong tan refuse to jeopardize their respected reputation in picking a champ at this stage of the game when the wares of the new prospects have not as yet been matched against those of the recognized seeded players.

A thriller took place yesterday when Guinness managed to scrape through with a 3-2 victory over Laflamme and be the first contestant in the quarter-finals.

Meek, Korman Win In Snooker Contest

The snooker tournament progressed yesterday as R. G. Meek took two straight games from Amsel to enter the quarter-finals with 'lying colours. Korman, in a trio of crucial games, lost one to Shacter, and then redeemed himself by winning the next two, and so entering the semi-finals.

Today J. P. Joston is scheduled to play Jim Gunn in what is expected to be an exciting game, with the right to enter the quarter-finals at stake. Gunn is a seeded player, while Joston is of no mean skill at the snooker table, indicating a close match.

Dawson College Athletics

Cagers Arrange Exhibition Tilts With U of Ottawa

Dawson's Intermediate "A" basketball team, after the 49-7 shellacking administered to the St. Willibrod's squad Wednesday evening, has had another exhibition game lined up for December 8.

The opponents will be the University of Ottawa team, and the game will be played in the Dawson College gymnasium. This match will be followed in 3 days by the team's first road game against Loyola in Montreal on Dec. 5, and the boys will be in good shape for the tussle.

Shuttle Players Practice Nightly; Hockey to Start

Dawson's newest sport, badminton, has run into an unusual minor snag in its organization. Due to the great number of other activities, it has been difficult to find a time when the gym is free. Not to be deprived of their games a number of enthusiasts play the sport each night in the gym after the other activities have ceased. A visitor to the Dawson gym any night around midnight can witness snappy matches going on.

The court lines are being repainted now, and should be ready for play to get organized by next week. A few matches will be held to give the players practice, and then a tournament will be organized. Matches will be held over the weekend, with those who visit the big city on those evenings playing after other sports finish about 9:30, on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Finals Scheduled In Floor Hockey

"Engineers" Leading In Dawson League; Fraser Tops Scorers

St. Johns, Nov. 29, 1945. — (Special to The Daily)—"Dawson Floor Hockey League playoffs are scheduled to open next Friday," announced league president Doug Woodward in an interview yesterday. This statement followed Wednesday night's league play in which several favoured teams were upset by clubs lower in the standing who are battling for a playoff spot.

In the opening game Engineers whitewashed the Sharpshooters 7-0 to run their winning streak to 5 games and remain the only unbeaten team in the loop. Hadley scored a hat trick and Drummond tallied twice to tie each other for fifth place in the league scoring.

AROUND THE GYM

with Fink

With mid-season conditions already prevailing to the north of our fair city and six inches of snow promised to fall within the city limits momentarily, the ski enthusiasts led by Manager Bob Everson, held an informal meeting Wednesday night.

The coming season will in all likelihood witness a large turnout of ardent ski fans, who will be headed by Perry Pangman as honorary coach. Perry will be remembered best as one of the original organizers of the Red Birds, the Graduate Ski Club of McGill. Before the last war, he was one of four Canadians to tour Europe, during which time he had a chance to visit with many university students who showed a keen interest in skiing. At present, arrangements are being made to obtain subsidiary expert coaches for the individual arts of skiing such as slalom, downhill and parallel skiing.

LAURENTIAN ZONE
The Laurentian Zone, headed by Chairman Fred Urquhart, boasts some of the best meets around these parts, mainly because of the lack of interest shown in the Quebec area and the lack of proper skiing conditions in Ontario. The zone meets are open to all, while representative teams will be chosen to compete in the special contests which are to be held this year.

One contact has already been made and a meet will definitely be held at Dartmouth in the near future, at which McGill is to be represented. The Intercollegiate Ski Union (I.S.U.) will not be held this year, but instead has been postponed till next year. Before the war, when McGill was always among the winners, this meet was the highlight of the season with mostly American teams participating. In fact, at a few of these meets, McGill was the only Canadian team represented; but stiff competition can be expected in the years to come from the University of Montreal, who along with Laval have been adding strength to their respective teams continuously.

HITIER AND YON
The volleyball league gets underway next week, by which time the names of the team managers must be handed in to Hay Finlay at the Athletics office... twenty-three teams to be entered.

Floor hockey practices continued last night, with one scheduled for tonight as well. Manager J. A. Lesperance has announced that if sufficient interest is shown, a league will be formed with one team from each faculty.

In the field of fencing, entries are anticipated from the Y.M.H.A., Y.M.C.A., and other clubs besides the McGill entry, who will contest the Provincial Championship in a meet to be held at the Gym in the near future.

The Badminton Club, headed by Pat Robinson is looking around in an effort to secure a coach, for this popular pastime... A few of the McGill men were to have competed in the M.A.A.A. Badminton Tournament held last night.

McGill Puckmen Hampered by Difficulty In Getting Forum for Practice Workouts

A workout is scheduled today for the McGill Senior Hockey Squad who missed practice yesterday when the eighteen men selected by Coach Campbell for the team found the Canadian already in possession of the ice. It is hoped that some pre-season exhibition games will be played with teams of the senior loop starting December 7, and the Royals, the Ottawa Senators, and Sherbrooke Red Raiders are listed as possible opponents. This leaves all too little practice time for the Redmen, and the difficulty in getting the Forum ice is proving a great handicap.

SIX-GAME SERIES.

The first Intercollegiate game is scheduled for January 8 with the University of Montreal, and is the first of a six-game schedule involving a home and home series with each of the other teams in the league. Thus McGill fans will be able to see four league games, two with U. of M. and one each with Queens and Varsity. In addition there is an exhibition on February 1, when Dartmouth Indians invade the Forum to renew an old rivalry with the Redmen.

At today's practice Coach Campbell hopes to put further finishing touches to the McGill ice machine.

At turnouts so far this year both Jack Gelleneau and Tony Dobell have been turning in promising performances in front of the twine. Jack, who has played for RCAF in the NDHL and also for the Junior Canadiens, appears well able to handle himself in the intercollegiate loop. Other players listed include a stellar defence setup of Broderick, Gosselin, Hepon, Bridel and Mingie. Up forward will be the Hale Twosome, Sinclair, Allen, Costigan, Spiller, Pitfield, Pierson.

Interclass Cagers End First Week With One Game

Phys Eds Beat Meds; Law-Meds Postponed; Further Schedule Out

The first week of play in the Interclass Basketball league came to an end yesterday with one game being played and one being unavoidably postponed.

In the only contest played, the powerful Phys. Ed. squad easily downed Med III while the Law-Med II a fixture had to be postponed because of a lecture conflicting while the timetable of games.

F. M. Van Wagner, organizer of the loop released next week's schedule which appears below. This schedule will reappear again in the Daily early next week. With this plan in operation there will be no excuse for teams not showing up.

Monday 5:15 Eng III vs. Com. IB. Referee, MacAdam; 6:00 Com III & IV vs. Eng IV. Referee: MacAdam.

Tuesday 5:15 Sci IIA vs. Arts I & II. Referee: McTavish; Sci IIB vs. Med IIA. Referee: Miller; 6:00 Sci III & IV Dent. Referee: McTavish; Arch. vs. Com II. Referee: Miller.

Wednesday 5:15 Com IA vs. G. Sch. Referee: Weingarten; Med IIB vs. Eng I. Referee: Weingarten.

EIGHT BALLS WIN

The Eight Balls showed a rejuvenated team to hand the Pinups their second straight defeat 8-3, thus moving into a tie for 3rd place in section III and a good chance of making the playoffs. Leavitt was the star of this tilt scoring 4 goals for the winners. "Slim" Strachan got two for the winners while Maslarczyk potted 2 for the Pinups to take over the 4th spot in league scoring. Lipsitz of the Pinups was forced to watch the game from the sidelines due to a leg injury contracted in his previous game. "Scoop" Neale of the "Eight Balls" suffered 2 broken ribs, thus running into the double figures people injured in the rugged play.

Vansank defaulted to the Aces in the next scheduled game and the latter team are now fairly well assured of a playoff berth. In the fourth game the Snafus upset the Speedballs 4-0, who were leading section I earlier in the season, to clinch a playoff berth. Shaw, Stundon, Languedoc and Chalner tallied while Thacker was a tower of strength on defence.

WOMEN'S UNION

The Women's Union announces that due to the lack of cooperation of the women students who signed up for the McGill Women's Voluntary Services' course in Home Nursing, it has been necessary to cancel the course.

However, the course in First Aid which was originally planned for the second term, as a sequel to the Home Nursing course, will commence in January. All women students who signed for these two courses are expected to follow up, better late than never, and participate in the First Aid course. Any other students who wish to take this course may do so.

VETERANS SOCIETY—ENTERTAINMENT COMMITTEE

There will be a very important meeting of the entertainment committee of the Veterans' Society today at 1:00 p.m. on the third floor landing at the Union. It is hoped that all the regular members as well as any others who are interested will come.

The Student Labour Club is holding a meeting and social on Tuesday, Dec. 4, at 8 p.m. in the Grill room of the Union. There will be a reorganization of the executive due to the new veteran element on the campus, and a short talk on N.F.C.U.S. by Mel Shiffman, vice-chairman, and member of the Students' Executive Council. This will be followed by a sing-song, dancing, and refreshments. All members are invited.

McGILL RADIO WORKSHOP

There will be a rehearsal for the cast of the play under production on Saturday Dec. 1 at 2:00 p.m. in the Union Music Room.

HILLEL

A Chanuka (Feast of Lights) Party will be held at the Hillel House, 3460 Stanley St., coming Saturday, 5 p.m. This is the second in the series of Saturday afternoon affairs which are being planned by the Cultural Committee. The program will include songs, games, reading and piano selections, and special Chanuka refreshments. The entire Hillel membership and their friends are invited.

CCF CLUB

The first regular CCF study group meeting will be held in the Music Room of the Union this Monday at 1:00 p.m.

R. Cranford Pratt, third year Arts student, will speak on the "Economic Necessity of Socialism." As will be usual in our study group meetings, the address will last twenty minutes to a half hour. Discussion and questions will follow.

Nominations for the posts of vice-chairman, secretary and librarian of the study group will be called for, it was announced by Ken MacDonald, study group chairman. The study group meeting is open to all members of the C.C.F. Club as well as those wishing to join. All students not members of one of the other political clubs are welcome.

Those wishing to eat their lunch as the meeting proceeds may do so.

INTER VARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

"Has Christianity the Answer to Today's Chaos? This is the topic of the I.V.C.F. Open Forum which is taking place at 8 p.m. this Saturday, in Student House—3445 Peel Street. The discussion is being led by Mr. C. Stacey Woods, B.A., B.Th., General Secretary of the I.V.C.F. These Open Forums are designed to present the basic message of Christ as a challenge and all students are invited to come and join in the debate. The topic to be discussed tomorrow is of universal interest and presents a problem which must be solved.

Mr. C. Stacey Woods will also be speaking at a fireside on Sunday night, December 2, at 8:45 p.m. You are invited to come over to Student House after church to sing, eat, sit by the fire, and listen to the speaker. Refreshments will be served at both meetings.

number of lamps. Two of the boys who have entered lamps for the exhibition have taken the course at Macdonald College and are manufacturing lamps professionally.

Miss Johansen expressed disappointment in the return of photographs, remarking that in previous years a great many more have been entered. She was also surprised at the fact that there were fewer paintings than usual, adding that additional entries in either line would be accepted today or tomorrow.

"The committee requests that exhibitors call for their work on Saturday, Dec. 15, before noon," Miss Johansen concluded. "We cannot accept responsibility for anything left after that date."

finals. There are a number of games which the "manager" wishes to be played immediately. It will be the duty, at the expense of default and automatic victory to his opponent, to phone him and arrange a meeting between the two in which a victor will be decided. The following are those which have this responsibility:

MacDonald to phone Cockhill, DE. 4939.

Haddad to phone Coore, MA. 2948.

Choien to phone Hoyle, WI. 6842.

Choraphone to phone Gore, FI. 2895.

Markel to phone Ammon, MA. 9825.

Garmaise phoning Roskies, DE. 8566.

FRASER

In the feature game of the evening the Female Flashes edged out the much improved but luckless Meat Balls 2-0 as "Red" Timmins put on another of his spectacular exhibitions in the nets. "Flying Fritz" Fraser scored both the winners' goals to move into the top spot in league scoring, having tallied 14 times in 7 games. Dave Schofield and Udall were always dangerous for the Meat Balls, but "Weak-eyes" Wake, "Hooker" Johnson and "Basher" Bourke put up a stout defence. After the game "Gino" Pierson, the Flashes manahave a cigarette... might as well smoke myself to death... gee whiz, get a load of that... lovely legs... beautiful girl... handsome fellow she's with... I wouldn't go for her anyway... not my type... have some coffee... oh, might as well drink myself to death... "I love you"... nice number... "since heaven knows when"... gosh, she's sitting down... at my table... quick, what'll I say?... what'll I talk about?... quickly, now, think, THINK!

NOTE TO OUR DAWSON FRIENDS.

If it is as cold out at St. J. as it is here, my friends (may I?) I don't blame you for having a House-warming party. . . . Seriously, though (as if I was funny in the first place), I hope everything goes off perfect tonight. . . . All the best.

DEPT., VETERAN'S, FOR THE USE OF:

It's all very well to be able to earn $75 a month without anything being deducted from our grants, but let's not kid ourselves, fellows. That still doesn't solve anything. The fact remains that us guys who have been away from school for years are having all we can do to manage our studies, without worrying about a job. And even if we did get a job, it would only be at the expense of our school work, and then there's nothing here that says $75 jobs are just there for the asking... a vicious circle.

BOUQUETS, BRICKBATS AND BOLONEY DEPT.:

Sweet-scented Palmolive to Lya Popper (Features). Lya, honey, one of these days you're going to get the shock of your life. I'm going to use some of your suggestions. . . . Heavy, coarse Oxydol to the chap, drinking milk out of a bottle, and dribbling all over the place. . . . and Belinda, when you rushed into my life 'tother Saturday. . . . I just don't know what to say!

ger, stated that "We're the team to watch in the playoffs."

Capital to be played sometime after the new year.

The game will be somewhat a local game for a few of the Dawson players, a number of whom spent their childhood near Parliament Hill.

Coach Leonard is driving the squad in practices in order to attempt to iron out the weak spots he noticed in the previous matches. Shooting is being concentrated on, and the boys should give Ottawa a good opinion of the prowess of the St. Johns teams.

HOCKEY

Ice hockey is also in the process of organization, and Em expects a strong squad to represent Dawson.

Though some of the Dawson stars will be wearing McGill uniforms this year, the league with Loyola, Macdonald, Bishops, and McGill in which Dawson is entered and which will start after the new year, can expect a good team from St. Johns to contest the title.

The Dawson rinks are being worked on and flooding is expected to start today. Work commenced on Tuesday, and the sawdust and ice filling the rinks are almost completely cleared away. Lighting facilities have been found to be in good condition, and the heating for the huts is also working well. The boards have been repaired, and, pending the weatherman's consent, Orlick expects the rinks to be ready for play by the early part of next week.

Two little children in the kindergarten were talking before school opened. One said to the other:

"We have a new baby at our house!"

"You have!" exclaimed the other.

"What doctor brought it?"

"Dr. Jones."

"Oh," cried the second child, "we take from him too."
